RECORD OF MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE TO BE KEPT

Acting under instructions from Governor Simon Bamberger, the State Council of Defense has assumed the task of collecting and preserving a record of the names of all persons in the country's service from the state of Utah.

In order that the record may be fully complete so that it may be kept for all the time the state council intends to use every possible means of gaining the information desired, not only the facts which may be procured from County Councils of Defense and local draft boards, but every community association that can render help will be appealed to so that the canvass may be thorough and the results exhaustive and comprehensive. It is the feeling of the council that the service rendered by Utah's people during the war is so magnificent that nothing less than a detailed and correct record of the names should be aimed at.

The war history work will be under the direction of the secretary of the State Council of Defense, Arch M. Thurman and Marshall C. Rankin. The state office will be very pleased to receive communication and information from any citizen of Utah relative to persons in service. It is the hope that those in charge of this work that the people of Utah will respond at once and send to the office of the State Council of Defense material which should be made part of the state record. We hope that parents and other relatives will take it upon themselves to be sure that the persons from their home are properly represented on the war record, in order that there shall be no omissions when the record is finally complete.

It is the plan of the State Council of Defense that this work shall begin at once. All preliminary organization has now been completed and filing of names should begin within the present week.

America Wonderful Lesson to People of Entire World

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—"We have come back to our country thoroughly convinced that our people and our government stand out as a wonderful example to the peoples of the whole world," declared Samuel Gompers tonight in his "report to the American people" on the work of the labor mission to Europe.

Speaking at a huge mass meeting, the president of the American Federation of Labor reiterated that American labor stands pledged to the last man to the last drop of blood, to defeat Prussian militarism and, amid applause, declared that in Europe the spark of freedom had burst into a flame that has sounded the death knell of kings and autocracy throughout the world.

After referring to the declaration adopted by American labor at Washington in March, 1917, insisting on conditions of labor and freedom during any war and pledging support to the government, Mr. Gompers said: "I merely wish to call your attention to the fact that at the London labor inter-allied labor conference of September, the American mission proposed, and the conference adopted the declaration, not in the same words but in the same sense as adopted by American labor more than a year and a half ago."

Bolshevik Press Denounced
Mr. Gompers sharply criticized what he characterized as the pro-German and Bolshevik press of the allied countries, declaring that every effort of the mission was the target of these propagandists.

In Italy, for instance, this press published us as frauds and non-representatives of American labor. We replied that we represented four million working people, and the Avante, literally translated into English, the Advance Bolshevik, pretended Italian official socialist paper, said:

"Well, Mr. Gompers may represent four million workers, but he represents more millions of dollars." To which I replied:

"If I represent dollars no one has yet accused me of having received German dollars."

DR. FORBES RECEIVES A CAPTAINCY IN THE MEDICAL CORPS

Word reached Dr. H. B. Forbes of this city from Washington yesterday that he had been commissioned captain in the medical corps of the United States army.

He has been instructed to immediately leave for Fort Riley, Kan., where he will enter the officers' training camp maintained for medical men entering the army service.

The Ogden physician has been a world-wide traveler and his selection to this position will probably mean further visiting of far-off lands. He has a knowledge, as a result of personal visits, of almost all the land involved in the war, even including the Asiatic territories that have been scenes of conflict, having at one time successfully undertaken a world journey including the region of Bagdad.

SPECIAL CLASSES AT A. C. FOR STUDY OF IRRIGATION

Important irrigation problems and their attempted solutions will be the subject for a course of special classes at the Utah Agricultural college during the coming winter, according to Professor O. W. Israelson. This course will be given just following the big farmers' roundup which will be held at Logan.

A special course for watermasters is to be given by the department of irrigation and drainage of the Utah Agricultural college during the coming winter, according to Professor O. W. Israelson. This course will be given just following the big farmers' roundup which will be held at Logan. It will run for two weeks and aim, in that time, to give a fundamental knowledge of correct irrigation practice and to acquaint those taking advantage of the course with the important irrigation problems of the west.

Professor Israelson declares that a most urgent need for such a course exists in this state. "Every irrigation company in Utah should make it possible for its watermaster to attend this special course in irrigation," says Professor Israelson. "It would no doubt be well for every irrigation company, purely as a war measure, to depart from its established practice of choosing a watermaster during March or April and begin immediately to look for the best available talent to act as watermaster next year. Choosing the watermaster now will give him an opportunity to study at home during the long winter months practical problems in water measurements, and in capacities of soils to retain water, and to become acquainted with company rules and regulations and other problems vitally concerned with the economical use of the state's water supply. Just what Utah's most perplexing irrigation problems are, and how to study them will be features of the special course for watermasters."

"It is fully recognized that food production in the west is vitally dependent on the total available water supply and on how it is used. Indeed, the fundamental importance of irrigation to food production is so obvious as to need no comment."

"Utah was probably one of the first states to give special attention to the conservation of its irrigation waters as a means of increasing food production, and the Agricultural college has been called upon to assist in urging the need for unusual economy in the use of water. It has been asked to assist in some readjustments of water distribution, in order to save crops which were threatened with destruction through drought, and about 3,500 acres of wheat amounting, in all probability, from 25,000 to 50,000 bushels of wheat have been saved in this way."

PROMINENT DENTIST IS INFLUENZA VICTIM

In spite of all efforts of Dr. W. P. Winters, quarantine physician, the disease has spread here with alarming rapidity, ten deaths having been reported and about 175 cases are under quarantine. The local board of health and the officers of the Red Cross have established an emergency hospital in the basement of the public library building, with Miss Grace Sample and Miss Helen Campbell of the Wasatch academy faculty in charge.

Dr. Tanner is survived by his wife and two young children, 3 years and 6 months of age, respectively. His body will be taken to Payson for burial tomorrow.

KAISER AT SPA TO LEARN NEWS

Momentous Decisions of Abdication and Unconditional Surrender of German Armies to Allies Before Him.

(By the Associated Press)

The terms of the entente alliance under which Germany was secure an armistice have been handed to the German delegates at French army headquarters at a little village in the department of the Aisne, and a German courier now is speeding back to Spa, German headquarters in Belgium, with the document.

Seventy-two hours, or until Monday morning, have been given the Germans to accept or reject the stipulations. Emperor William is said to be at Spa awaiting the arrival of the courier with the momentous conditions. The German delegates, it is said, endeavor to secure an immediate provisional suspension of hostilities but Marshal Foch refused to acquiesce.

Notwithstanding the fact the abdication of Emperor William is generally believed to be conditional upon any terms of an armistice and the further fact that the majority parties in Germany have demanded that he quit the throne and that the crown prince renounce his right to succession, the Kaiser has refused to retire.

Meanwhile, throughout Germany revolt is in the air, and the red flag is flying. A republic has been formed in Bavaria and in addition to Kiel, Hamburg and Schleswig, Bremen is in turmoil. Prince Henry of Prussia, commander in chief of the German fleet, the greater part of which is said to be in revolt, is reported to have fled to Schleswig.

Germans Everywhere Harried

On the battle fields the Germans everywhere are being harried backward to their borders. Tournai, an important railway center in Belgium on the line leading to Brussels, has been entered by the British, who are across the Scheidt with few barriers of great importance between them and Brussels. To the south of Valenciennes the British have taken Avesnes, another important railway junction point, and all along the front have pushed the Germans farther east. Mauberge is being advanced upon by the British.

The French have cut deeply into the enemy's front. At last accounts they had reached Liart, twenty miles north of Bethel on the railroad leading eastward to Metz. The taking of this town leaves only one railroad in this portion of France over which the enemy can retreat. This is the Hirson line, which is being daily brought nearer and now at some places dominated by the French guns.

Eastward the French are still driving northward and have joined hands with the Americans in the western outskirts of Sedan. More prisoners and large additional quantities of war stores have been taken by the French. Friday saw little infantry fighting between the Americans and the Germans west of the Meuse, but there were heavy reciprocal artillery bombardments. East of the river the Americans have cleared out several strong forest positions held by the enemy.

It is reported that the roads from Stenay, Sedan, Conflans and Longuyon leading to Metz are congested with retreating German troops and transports.

"I have been in the woods where the Hunks were and they sure had it fine. Electric lights, steam heat, hot baths, and cold water. Their front line trenches were lined with brick and concrete. They evidently left in a hurry as they left munitions of all sorts."

Resignation of Prince Max Is Not Yet Accepted

Football Teams In Porto Rico

NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 7.—Football, not soccer, but the man-to-man inter-collegiate type has been started in Porto Rico and the soldiers are taking to it like ducks to water, despite heat and sandy playing field that elsewhere would be considered too heavy for fast team work.

The first battalion of the 37th regiment started the football craze late in September by challenging the rest of the regiment. Neither side scored but two broken noses were reported among the casualties. This was the first blood drawn by the warriors and it added such zest to the life of the camp that the 37th regiment has taken up the game.

As a result of the interest in the football games the athletic director has added the sport to the regular program of "play day" events for the troops. This is probably the first appearance of football in the tropics.

Associated Clubs Have Many Men In Army Service

With fifty-three stars in its service flag the Southern Association has made a bid for honors among the minor baseball leagues. Last season there were only 120 players on the rosters of the eight Southern Association clubs and almost half that number are now in military service. In addition several have enrolled for welfare work or service in other non-combatant branches of the nation's forces overseas. According to latest available figures Chattanooga tops the list of clubs with eleven of its fifteen players either in the army or navy. Mobile has nine stars in its flag; Memphis eight; Birmingham seven; Little Rock six and Nashville, New Orleans and Atlanta four each.

Seattle School War Garden Pays For Winter Fuel

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 8.—Many Seattle school war gardens produced more than enough to pay for this winter's fuel, declared Robert E. Chapman, who had charge of the garden work here last summer. Hundreds of families in their war gardens produced all the vegetables they could use during the summer and all they could store for this winter.

Mr. Chapman has been made regional director of the United States school garden army in Washington and Oregon. He is now urging everybody to get things ready for next year's planting.
